Justice Mildred Lillie To Give Marymount Talk

Lillie of the District Court of Appeal in Los Angeles, who will be the principal speaker at commencement exercises on Saturday, June 2, at Marymount College.

"They now hold positions of high esteem in virtually all the major professions, have moved into the nuclear world and are helping to solve the mysteries of outer space. In fact, I don't think it would particularly surprise anyone if a woman scientist were to be among the first to visit the moon."

CHP Shares Jurisdiction On Highways

By CHARLES E. CHAPEL, Assemblyman, 46th District

Many people have written to me about the enforcement of speed limit laws on the portion of a state highway within the boundaries of a city.

Specifically, they want to know if it is the responsibility of the local city police, the California Highway Patrol, or both.

For many years, I have replied that I believed that the California Highway Patrol and the local city police have concurrent jurisdiction. However, in order to be absolutely certain, I requested an official opinion from the Legislative Counsel of the State of California, A. C. Morrison.

HIS OPINION No. 3872, is the same as the answer I have been giving my correspondents, but he then proceeds to present an excellent analysis. Unless otherwise indicated, all his references are to the California State Vehicle Code. Here is his opinion and analysis:

"Dear Mr. Chapel:

"You have asked 'this office

what agency is responsible for the enforcement of speed limit laws on the portion of a state highway within the boundaries of a city.

"The California Highway Patrol and local city police have concurrent jurisdiction to enforce the speed limit laws on a state highway within the boundaries of the city.

"AT THE OUTSET it should be noted that the provisions of the Vehicle Code are uniformly applicable throughout the state and in all counties and municipalities therein (Sec. 21, Veh. C.). As the regulation of vehicle traffic is a matter of statewide concern, the code is equally applicable to chartered and general law cities (Pipoly v. Benson (1942), 20 Cal. 2d 366, 369).

"This being true, the powers granted by the Vehicle Code to the California Highway Patrol may be exercised by its members in every city of the state as well as in unincorporated areas (Secs. 2400, 2409).

"THE CALIFORNIA Highway Patrol is given power to enforce the speed laws on highways (Sec. 2400). Since a 'highway' is defined in Section 360 as a 'way or place of whatever nature, publicly maintained and open to the use of the public for purposes of vehicular travel . . . the California Highway Patrol may enforce speed laws on any highway throughout the state with no limitation as to whether the highway be a state highway, county road, or city street (Secs. 2400, 2409).

"In the absence of legislative provision to the contrary, the jurisdiction of a city policeman to enforce the provisions in question is limited to the streets and highways within the boundaries of the city that employs him (62 C.J.S. 'Municipal Corporations' Sec. 574).

"THEREFORE, the enforcement of the provisions of the Vehicle Code relating to speed laws within a city is a matter for both state and local law enforcement within the boundaries of the city.

"By Lloyd M. Harmon, Jr., Deputy Legislative Counsel."

Language Students Take Honors

Academic standards of El Camino College went into orbit again this week as three foreign language students were awarded prizes in the third Language Council Junior College Essay Contest.

Sponsored by the Foreign Language Council of Pasadena City College, the contest was open to any junior college student in the Southern California area.

"El Camino had three essays entered in the contest and each of the entries received an award," Dr. Jeannette Campiglia, Spanish instructor announced.

"It is extremely gratifying to the foreign language department that our students excelled in competition with so many other junior colleges," Dr. Campiglia added.

In Spanish, Clifford Hersey, major in that field, received a $5 award for his second place essay on the life of middle-class families in Mexico.

For her French essay, "La Mer," Lorraine Beckett also received a second prize.

Wilma Webster, Spanish major, was awarded an honorable mention for her contribution about North American tourists.
